Harrison's Mark.

Grover Cleveland was nominated for president of the United States by the democratic national convention at Chicago on Thursday morning at 3:30 o'clock, receiving 616 votes on the first ballot.

Stevenson, of Illinois, was placed in nomination for the vice presidency late last evening.

HARRISON vs. Cleveland! What a walk-a-way for the republicans.

Let the street committee of the council make its report on the matter of paving the streets.

FREE TRADE and calamity will find this not a good year for fakes. The democrats are bested before they begin the struggle.

The American Express Company will be succeeded by the Great Northern Express company on the line of that road on July 1st.

In 1888 Harrison defeated Cleveland and in 1892 history will repeat itself. Grover Cleveland will never have the pleasure of filling the presidential chair again.

The stuffed prophet was completely snowed under four years ago with all the machinery of the government at his back. Hence, without this support, it is easy to be seen he's "in it" this time.

The stuffed prophet is again before the people as the democratic candidate for the highest office in the gift of this great republic. Grover will have plenty of time for reflection after November.

HARRISON, four years ago, unknown and untitled, was victorious over the great exponent of free trade, and now at the close of one of the most successful administrations in the history of the country, it is easily to be seen he will win almost without an effort.

A MEETING was held in Staples a few days ago for the purpose of agitating the question of forming a new county out of the northern portion of Todd and unorganized Cass county with Staples as the county seat. That little village can agitate until black in the face and that's all the good it will do her.

WHAT has become of the street paving resolution in the city council? Brainerd will take rapid strides for this summer and paving the business streets ought to be one of the improvements made. A large majority of the property owners on these streets favor the project and the council should order it done. Pave the streets this summer.

THAT great democratic paper, the New York Sun, went on record as follows before the democratic convention was held:

New York will decide the presidential election in 1892 as in 1888. The way to win the battle for the democracy is to nominate a candidate who can carry New York against Harrison.

Cleveland has tried it. He failed.

The article in yesterday's Journal confirms what we said last week in regard to Bro. Stivers desiring to have Mr. Fleming out of the legislative race. Nothing would please the Journal better than to see Grover Cleveland republicans by the ears in this matter, and it is endeavoring to create dissension, but it will not avail. When the time comes a good man will be placed in nomination and no matter who it may be the party will stand by the ticket. There will be no repetition of the campaign of two years ago, Frar.

THE democratic national convention at Chicago destroyed all hope of success next November when the majority report of the committee on resolutions was rejected and a free trade plank pure and simple was inserted. The majority report demanded a low tariff with incidental protection, but that did not suit the rabid free traders of the south, who envy the north her vast industrial interests, so the party has been openly committed to a policy that would destroy all American industrial interests. This has been the policy of the southern wing of the party ever since the war, but they have never openly acknowledged it until now.

Have You Seen It. The first comet that has appeared in the northern hemisphere since 1882 can now be seen by those who get up early enough in the morning. It is already visible before dawn. Its length is about twenty degrees and it has eight well developed tails. It shines like a star of the fourth magnitude and can be found just west of the constellation of Pegasus. It is worth looking at. It will not disappear till the latter part of this month.—Fergus Falls Journal.

Look Out For Them. A couple of clock peddlers have been at work in Becker county, says the Detroit Record, the past ten days and are there yet. They take a trunk full of goods and go out among the best farmers. Of these goods they make of packages which they value at $88 and $78—$88 being the smallest amount they sell. For these goods they take the farmers' notes bearing 4 per cent. interest, running from six to eight months. They have already sold considerable goods, and we will be a dollar against a cent that when the farmer looks his bargain over he will find he is in the soup. The wise farmer will buy no goods, nor give any 4 per cent. notes.

Bro. Sheets' Opinion.

A. W. Sheets, of the Todd county Argus, sizes up the late republican convention as follows:

About the only opposition to the nomination of President Harrison came from those leaders of the party who wanted to control certain matters and found that the president had ideas of his own. The country has been crying out for years at the tendency of the times toward making it impossible for any one but rich men to hold office, and because Harrison sought to remedy these things leaders desired to defeat his renomination. He is a safe man to place in the presidential chair as could be found, as his successful administration has shown, and this fact will make him strong with the business interests of the country.

A Model Locomotive.

Several prominent railroad officials were at the union depot yesterday to witness the performance of the Van-land compound locomotive in starting out with the Northern Pacific transcontinental train. This engine was built by the Baldwin Locomotive works to be tested by the American Railway Master Mechanics' association, and she has already been tried on a number of Eastern roads. It is said that this is the best example of the improved locomotive engine that has ever been built. The engine is a 10-wheeler, has drivers 6 feet in diameter, boiler 22 inches and carries 190 pounds of steam—from 40 to 50 pounds more to the square inch than customary. The high-pressure cylinders are 14 inches in diameter and the low-pressure ones 24 inches. The piston stroke of all of them is 24 inches. When in service the total weight is 136,000 pounds, and while the machine is massive, there is nothing clumsy or awkward in its appearance or action. The start was made at 4:20, five minutes late, with an eleven coach train. From the Union depot to Como, up the heavy grade, the running time was twelve minutes—schedule time—from Como to the Minneapolis Union station the time was thirteen minutes, five minutes less than schedule time. In the cab were James Goodman, traveling engineer of the Northern Pacific, P. J. Conley, engineer, P. Kelly, fireman, from the same road, and H. G. Prall, engineer, and Charles Keen, fireman, from the Baldwin works. On the platform of the pilot were: C. H. Reynolds, master engineer, and C. J. Wilson, assistant division superintendent of the Northern Pacific; E. A. Custer, engineer of tests of the Baldwin works, and D. W. Meeker, respondent of the Railroad Gazette. Among the Northern Pacific officials who witnessed the start were M. C. Kimberly, general superintendent; J. Delamere, superintendent of transportation; J. C. Barber, master car builder; and C. C. Caminsky, auditor of freight accounts. This trip is the first of a series of tests which are being made under the direction of O. H. Reynolds, M. E., for the purpose of determining the measure of economy over an ordinary engine.—Pioneer Press.

Up to the Seventeenth century Grub street was on the outskirts of London. It was a street tenanted by bowyers, detectives, and thieves. Here, Donald, man, take that opportunity to scribble. Later on John Fox lived in Grub street, though he did not write his famous "The Grub street" in it. Fox's residence in Grub street occurred about 1792. John Speed, the tailor or architect, was a resident of Grub street in the eighteenth century. A responsible parent, having a family of twelve sons and six daughters. Grub street of old and Milton street today is noted for the number of its famous faces. From Grub street issued such famous old literary skits as "Jack the Giant Killer," "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," "The Wise Men of Gotham," and some of others now a part of every boy's library. Milton street men first began to populate Grub street in the latter part of the eighteenth century. Then a great number of seditions and libelous pamphlets were circulated, and as the streets were filthy, and to seek obscure living places, they found a fitting retreat in the maze of alleys which webbed the Grub street section. At any rate, by the time of the eighteenth century Grub street had become quite notorious as the poor authors' quarter of London. All the authors, except a very favored few, were poor. The life of Grub street was that of a modern tramp, only he was poor and obtained fewer square meals. They were true Bobbies always.—Collector.

He Feels Badly. EDITORS DISPATCH: I see by the Brainerd Journal this morning that our friend, the Hon. H. C. Stivers, is feeling very badly indeed. He is undoubtedly suffering from an acute bilious attack, superinduced by reading the tariff for revenue-only plank of the Chicago platform. We don't wonder at it, and, being human, we are really sorry for Mr. Stivers. We faintly would comfort him in his misadventure. The probabilities are, however, that he needs a good dose of physics, but we don't happen to have anything in that line about us. We therefore do hereby acknowledge that we are the "strongest," and we are the poorest, weakest, most insignificant and inconsequential nonentity on the face of the earth. Now, friend Stivers, as that is what you want the public to believe, and we confess it, don't be afraid any more. We won't hurt you. We love you, and don't want to see your nervous system give away, because you would then be in a d-d of a fix. Now, give down, like a good fellow, and take a nap, and we'll be round next fall and see you again. Ta, ta.

Republican County Convention.

A republican delegate convention for Grover Wing county is hereby called to meet in the court house in the city of Brainerd, on Tuesday, July 6, 1892, at 3 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing twelve delegates to the congressional convention to be held at Duluth July 20, and eight delegates to the state convention at St. Paul July 28.

The apportionment of delegates is as follows:

CITY OF BRAINERD. First ward, . . . 3 Third ward, . . . 3 Second ward, . . . 4 Fourth ward, . . . 3 Fifth ward, . . . 4

TOWNSHIP. Crow Wing, . . . 1 Bay Lake, . . . 1 Fawn Lake, . . . 1 Degreth Brook, . . . 1 Long Lake, . . . 1 Deerwood, . . . 1 Oak Lawn, . . . 1 Mill Lake, . . . 1 Moorsville, . . . 2

In the call issued by the state central committee for the state convention, all voters, without regard to past political affiliations, who believe in the principles of the republican party, and who desire its success in the present campaign, are invited to participate in the selection of delegates to this convention.

The various local committees are requested to call their primaries for the election of delegates to the county convention for Saturday evening, July 2.

By order of the county executive committee.

A. J. HALSTED, Chairman.

BRAINERD has used every influence to have Grover Wing county vote $100,000 in bonds to secure the building of a railway to Leach lake, which carried with it the building of a large saw mill at Brainerd. Among the most earnest workers for the project was H. C. Stivers, the editor of that stalwart free trade Democratic paper, the Brainerd Journal. The chief argument used by Bro. Stivers in his paper and in addresses in the county districts was that the railroad and the mill would open up new territory, increase the population, employ a large amount of labor, and in these ways increase the home market. This is a strong argument and it secured the voting of the bonds. It is especially gratifying to his republican friends to see so strong a Democrat as Bro. Stivers sought himself horse over the advantages of a home market.—St. Cloud Journal-Press.

Daddy's Things. Never Stopped. Dozens of baby carriages stand parked along the pavements of Fourteenth and Twentieth streets in front of the big respectable references. In the baby carriage was considered to make such an unfavorable reference. In the baby carriage people have the bad taste to think it so still that in the year 1820, in the town of Aberdeen, the magistrates forbade the baby carriage from being used in the streets, "it being an immoral vehicle to be used within the town walls, and it is a disgrace to the town to have it in the streets." It is a disgrace to the town to have it in the streets.

But shortly after this time the baby carriage was introduced into the Highlands, and the Highlanders got so fond of it that it was heard everywhere in Scotland, and it was not long before it was long before that time, but where they got their origin is not certain. There are two kinds of Scotch baby-carriages—Highland and Lowland. The Highland baby-carriage is the loudest kind of baby-carriage, and when played in a room the noise they make is almost deafening. They are, however, played a great deal in the hills, and around well-to-do houses.

At the time when the harp and horn were the national instruments, the Highlanders heard a great deal in the Lowlands of Scotland and in England. Now the baby-carriage is rarely heard in England, and not often in Scotland. The Highland baby-carriage in the Highlands they are to be heard nearly all day long.

It is very amusing to see how the baby carriage is sometimes taught in the Highlands. A well known tutor, who disdains to be bothered by babies, creeps into the room, and takes the baby carriage and gives it a blast—so. Very well, indeed; but what is sound, Donald, without sense? You may have forever about making a noise of it. If I don't know the queer things on the paper must help you. You see that big fellow who is the head of the baby carriage, from that line to this, while you beat one with your foot and give a long blast. If you put a leg to him you make two of his legs. He will move twice as fast if you blacken his face he will run four times as fast; and, after blackening his face, you beat him with this leg, in the willow. This time faster than the first while faced fellow I showed you. Now, Donald, whenever you blow your pipes, remember that the Highlanders' legs are tied the faster they will run.

This way of teaching is no doubt very ingenious, and it is effective, but I question whether it would be of any use to a musician's idea of time.

The attachment of the Highlander to his national music when played on the bagpipes is extraordinary; instances of this have often been noted. Thus, at the battle of Bannockburn, the Highlanders, retreating in great disorder, and the general complained to an officer of the bad conduct of his corps. "But," he said gravely, "I did very wrong in forbidding the pipers to play this morning. Nothing encourages the Highlanders so much on the day of battle as the sound of the bagpipes. 'Let them blow like the devil, then,' replied the general, 'if I will bring back the men.'"

The order was then given to play some well known Highland pibroch, and no sooner had the soldiers heard the sound of their own pipes, than they were in the rear with wonderful alacrity. A number of people dislike the bagpipes; some really dislike the sound of them. To some it is a matter of taste. I suppose they cannot help it; it is their misfortune, not their fault. There are others who love the sound of the bagpipes, but they really dislike the sounds they emit, but because they imagine they ought to laugh.

The following quotation from Mr. McDonald's preface to the "Ancient Marial Music of Scotland" is well worth repeating. It is a wonderful piece of speaking of the Highland bagpipes he says: "It is a thing of joy and in the scenes of mourning it has prevailed; it has animated her warriors in battle and welcomed them home after their toils to the homes of their love and the hills of their native land. Its strains were the first to greet the dawn of infancy, and they are the last to be forgotten in the wanderings of age."

Even the Highlander will allow that it is a wonderful piece of instrument, but, when he hears from his mountain home, what sounds, however melodious, could thrill round his heart like the burst of the Highland pipes? He says: "Never let it be told here to how many fields of danger and victory its proud strains have led; it is a wonder to me that it is not in Britain in which its war blast has not sounded. When every other instrument has been hushed by the confusion and carnage of the scene, it has been heard in the thick of the battle; and far in the advance its bleeding but devoted bearer, with his head bowed and his hands clasped in an encouragement to his countrymen and his own coracah."—North British Advertiser.

The first Atlantic steamer that crossed the Atlantic was the Savannah in 1819. It took that vessel twenty-five days to make the voyage. It was not until 1840 that a regular line of transatlantic steamers was established by the British and American Royal Mail Steam Packet company.—New York Advertiser.

Likened Himself to Samuel.

Among the interesting children in Washington is a little boy named Harry, who is apparently never so happy as when listening to his mother's fond of Bible stories which is called upon to repeat time and again. One Sunday not long ago, after the mother had been an attentive listener to the story of Samuel for some time, he suddenly for some mother, wishing him helpfully for something, called "Harry!" Knowing he was in the next room and could not fail to have heard her, he twice repeated his name, and then, in an annoyed tone, going to the door, spoke quite sharply.

"Harry, I have called you three times; why did you not answer?" "Well," came the response, "The Lord called Samuel three times and he didn't get mad about it."—Cor. New York Times.

AGE OF THE BAGPIPE.

IT DATES FROM TWO CENTURIES BEFORE THE CHRISTIAN ERA.

Once Used by Many People, It is Now Almost Exclusively the Favorite Instrument of the Scotch Highlander.

The bagpipe is an instrument of undoubted antiquity, in one or other of its forms, this has been proved in many ways. A representation of a pair of bagpipes was found in the ruins of Tarsus, which dated at least two centuries before the Christian era. They resembled in many ways our modern bagpipe, and each consisted of a pipe and blow-up skin. It is very doubtful whether the bagpipe is derived, some people maintain it had its origin in Italy, others in Greece, and others again say the Dances first played it. But some very reliable authorities on the subject, including Mr. Penant, who has given us some very good proofs, assure us that Italy or Greece is the probable place, but that blowing it by means of the month was first introduced by the Dances.

Queen Elizabeth was very fond of it, and the court she retained a special pipe. In the Highlands the earliest notice of the bagpipe was about the year 1594, and we find nothing that might lead us to imagine that they were used before that time, and even nearly a hundred years later the bagpipe was considered to make such an unfavorable reference. In the Highlands people have the bad taste to think it so still that in the year 1820, in the town of Aberdeen, the magistrates forbade the baby carriage from being used in the streets, "it being an immoral vehicle to be used within the town walls, and it is a disgrace to the town to have it in the streets." It is a disgrace to the town to have it in the streets.

His strong point is his memory. It fixes everything in a literary way that is brought before it. He has some system of analogizing dates that render it possible for him to give the day, month, year, and often even the hour of an occurrence on the spot. He is a man of no literary gifts or abilities whatever. Commencing modestly enough, his charges are now so high that they would even of well grounded and extensive, but not systematically, given. Many of his clients know a great deal more than he does in their way, and are men of much greater ability. He is, however, not arranged their information so skillfully, and cannot recall it when they need it. So they pay him to judge their memories, and are glad to have him to help them to do so.—New York Cor. Pittsburgh Bulletin.

Who Invented the Steam Engine? The Marquis of Worcester, while imprisoned in the Tower of London in 1624, invented and constructed a perfect steam engine, and had it publicly exhibited the year of 1629, at Worcester.

Thirty-four years later, in 1663, Denis Papin added the piston to the marquis' discovery. In 1689, James Watt, a Scotchman, built a steam engine, different in many details from those made by Worcester and Papin, and in 1769 Newcomen, Cavendish and Watt constructed the first successful atmospheric engine, which was complete in every detail.

The above array of historical facts notwithstanding, James Watt, who was born about sixty years after these great men had given the steam engine to the world, enjoys the distinction of being a veritable inventor, originator and author of the most useful contrivance of the present day.

James Watt, who lived and worked in the early part of the present century, is given the credit of being the man who demonstrated that the steam engine could be navigated; this, too, in face of the well known historical fact that De Garry propelled a vessel by steam in the harbor of Barcelona in 1646. Why does history make such mistakes?—St. Louis Republic.

That the placing of Nelson at the head of the state ticket would make it invincible no one can question.—Little Falls Transcript.

How Bob Dunn Feels.

Benjamin Harrison is the republican nominee for president, and we presume, it is the duty of all loyal republicans to accord him a whole-hearted support. Blaine republicans are never mugged. They will vote for Mr. Harrison because he is the nominee of their party. IT PAYS

To be cautious in the choice of medicines. Many are injured by trying experiments with compounds purporting to be blood-purifiers, the principal recommendation of which would seem to be their "cheapness." Being made up of worthless, though not always harmless, ingredients, they may well be "cheap," but in the end, they are dear. The most reliable medicines are costly, and can be relied at moderate prices, only when the manufacturing chemist handles the raw materials in large quantities. It is economy, therefore,

To Use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the valuable components of which are imported wholesale, by the J. C. Ayer Co. from the regions where they are richest in medicinal properties.

It is a wonder to me that any other than Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a show in the market. If people consulted their own interest, they would never use any other. It is not only the best, but, on account of its concentrated strength and purity, it is the most effective of blood-purifiers.—Dr. A. L. Almond, Druggist, Liberty, Va., writes: "I have been an attentive listener to the story of Samuel for some time, he suddenly for some mother, wishing him helpfully for something, called 'Harry!' A HUMAN THINK TANK.

A New York Student Who Puts His Knowledge Into Dollars.

In one of the handsome flats in a fashionable street in the city lives a gentleman who is rolling up a fortune by knowledge. He is not a writer or a lecturer, he holds no college professorship and does not belong to any learned body. He simply knows it all, or as nearly all as mortal man knows, and he sells his knowledge for a city fee.

He owns a very extensive library, to begin with. Then, too, he is a living library to his own books. If you require information on matters of history, science, theology, biography, art or anything else, you have but to apply to him and pay him his charges to be enlightened. You may make your notes out of his library, or with the list of authorities obtained from him consult the public collections. In one way and another there is probably nothing in the way of published information that you cannot get track of through him, even if he does not know all about it. He conducts his consultations with the fixed system of a lawyer or a physician and always has a full rate. There are times, indeed, when he is so fully engaged that appointments have to be made with him well in advance.

In theological matters he is especially strong. The list of his clients is said to include the most eminent divines of the country. Theological questions, and religious discussions annually owe their logic and their information to him. In the revision of theological works he is found an invaluable reference. In theological matters he is probably more learned than any man living. When the enormous mass of his sort of literature that is in existence is considered, the fact that he can master it has done is remarkable. But he carries the same authoritative erudition into other branches of letters.

His strong point is his memory. It fixes everything in a literary way that is brought before it. He has some system of analogizing dates that render it possible for him to give the day, month, year, and often even the hour of an occurrence on the spot. In 1891 the number had increased to 727.

The Bell Telephone company does not make much parade about it, but the stockholders who originally invested $1,000 in shares, and now get $6,000 a year on them, are not kicking much.

MOZART'S watch, originally presented to the composer by the Empress Maria Theresa, has just been deposited in the Museum of Salzburg. It is, of course, an old-fashioned but very handsome affair, the case being set with diamonds.

A FEW weeks ago 40 pigs ran away from James Duval, near Novato, Wash., and since that time the drove has increased to about 500, and is making the farmers very miserable by their frequent raids on gardens. Some of their tasks are six inches in length.

ALUMINUM has been discarded, after experiment, as a material for making
"water flasks" for the German army, on the ground that it corrodes. Of all metals it is one of the most difficult to corrode, but even it cannot stand
German army brandy.

In Prussian Poland they deal with dynamiters by the rule that
"the only good Anarchist is a dead Anarchist." Four have just been killed by citizens who have taken the law of retaliation into their own hands.

MADAME ADAM, the French biologist, is responsible for Emil Zola's defeat for the Academy of Sciences, and it is understood that the great apostle of realism will now show up at the Garden of Eden as it really must have been with a Mme Adam in it.

SOME remarkably clever person in St. Petersburg has arranged and placed on exhibition a clock with a photograph attachment, the dial of which is a human face, from whose unhappy mouth comes the announcement of the hours, as well as any directions that may be left with it.

It is said that the practice of over-drinking in Ireland originated in the tenth century, more than 400 years ago, as a "quack" sold drinks of either as a preventive. Finding the intoxicated a pleasant one, the people continued its use after all need or excuse for it had disappeared.

Forty seal poaching vessels have passed north of St. Lawrence this season with a good start of the vessels polishing those waters. Meantime the same gang are making a terrible business out of the damage done by their arbitration agreement and putting in absurd claims for compensation before the commission.

At Greenestad, Ind., are two immense trees of equal size, but circumference at the height of 50 feet one makes a sharp angle, growing solidly into the body of the other, forming a natural arch. The trees are about 15 feet apart, and their identical canopies are distinguished at the point of confluence.

The most famous religious relic,
says a church paper, is the "Iron Crown," which was worshipped in the middle ages. The tradition is that it was made from the nails which were driven through the hands of Jesus at the time of the crucifixion. This celebrated relic is now in Naples among theatrical jewels.

A RESIDENT of Fairfield, Me., has been released from Houlton jail after an incarceration of four years for debt.
He was able to pay, but wouldn't transfer all of his property, worth several thousands of dollars, to relatives, saying that he could stand boarding at the jail as long as the court and his creditors could.

The Clerk of Clark county, Ind., was summoned to his office late in the recently to issue a marriage license, and he found two old men and an old woman waiting. Each man claimed it was the other who was principal, while one of them, addressed as Judge
when the lady insisted was the right party, persistently disclaimed the claim. The dispute continued until the clerk locked them all out.

FOREIGN NUZZETS.
The minister of finance of Uruguay has been overthrown and a fugitive.
Tusculatino council in session at Buenos Ayres is nominating Sever Soria for the presidency and Senator Uriburu for the vice presidency.

A SUBMARINE at Balahona, Northern Spain, has been destroyed. Eight dead have been removed from the wreckage.
The submarine was carrying a cargo of ammunition and was being used for military purposes.

A BERLIN cable says: At Magdeburg soldiers belonging to the garrison there were unloading ammunition when a shell exploded, killing three of the men. Their bodies were fearfully mangled and their heads and legs were blown off.

THE University of Bologna had in 1250 A. D. about 10,000 students.
Anatomy, galvanism and the circulation of the blood were first taught here. Female professors were among the most respected in the University.
One, Mollera d'Andria, was so beautiful that she lectured behind a curtain, "lest, if her charms were seen, the students would let their young eyes wander o'er her, and quite forget their jurisprudence."

AS expert who claims to "speak whereof he knows" asserts that wine is a good invention, taking the chances of thirty more and carti-quines and a revolution in public opinion all over the world. A good pound of 1815 sold in 1850 for $175 per dozen. Tokay laid down in 1800 sold in 1850 for $180 per dozen, and that must be considered as paying a fair interest on their cost and keep.

WASHINGTON.
E. S. LACY, controller of the currency, has resigned.

AGREEMENT is found impossible by the conferees on the river and harbor bill.

MANY congratulatory telegrams continue to be received by President Harrison.

The house naval committee has ordered a favorable report on a bill providing for the transfer of the revenue cutter service from the treasury department to the navy department.

GEN. SCHOFIELD said that the concentration of United States troops near the border is for the purpose of the annual summer encampment, but he admits that they would be utilized in the event of trouble with the Mexicans.

The president approved the act making appropriations to supply deficiencies in the appropriations for the payment of pensions of the Civil War soldiers.

RAUM made a requisition for $72,000 for the payment of pensions and expects that the money will be available.

UNFORTUNATE EVENTS.
MANY deaths result from the Illinois storm.

Fire in Montana caused much loss of livestock and damage to railroads.

A STORM in Chicago caused the death of several people and partially destroyed
the DePaul university.

TWENTY men are killed and many others
hurt by the fall of a bridge near Cincinnati.

THREE persons are killed, others injured and the Grant monument struck by lightning in Lincoln Park, Chicago.

The death list from the Southern Minn-apolis cyclone is about thirty. The Red river valley is completely flooded and the losses reach a million.

CAUGHT IN RUINS.

A Mother and Her Child Killed in a Cyclone-Wrecked Building at Luverne.

Great Damage Done to Crops and Buildings in Rock County
by the Twister.

LUVERNE, Minn., Special, June 22.—The storm which crossed the southern part of Rock county last night destroyed all crops in its path and wrecked several buildings.
One of the most serious cases was at Luverne, where a large building, the Nelson and infant child, Mrs. Nelson had two children in her arms and was walking to the barn when the house collapsed like a house of cards, and falling on the children, one of which died to-day. The other is expected to recover. The loss of crops will be nearly total in the southern tier of townships.

MORE THAN ENOUGH.
SIX Hundred and One Votes Claimed by

BRainerd, MINN.

A MERCHANT in Germany has been fined heavily for using a quotation from the Bible to head an advertisement.

In 1887 there were 417 competitors entered at the Harvard athletic sports. In 1891 the number had increased to 727.

The Bell Telephone company does not like much parade about it, but the stockholders who originally invested $1,000 in shares, and now get $6,000 a year from them, are not kicking much.

Mozart's watch, originally presented to the composer by the Empress Maria Theresa, has just been deposited in the Mozartium of Salzburg. It is, of course, an old-fashioned but very handsome affair, the case being set with diamonds.

A FEW weeks ago 40 pigs ran away from James Duval, near Novely, Wash., and since that time the drove has increased to about 500, and is making the farmers very miserable by their frequent raids on gardens. Some of their tusks are six inches in length.

ALUMINUM has been discarded, after experiment, as a material for making "water flasks" for the German army, on the ground that it corrodes. Of all metals it is one of the most difficult to corrode, but even it cannot stand German army brandy.

In Prussian Poland they deal with dynamites by the rule that "the only good Anarchist is a dead Anarchist." Four have just been killed by citizens who have taken the law of retaliation into their own hands.

MADAME ADAM, the French blue-stocking, is responsible for Emil Zola's defeat for the Academy of Sciences, and it is understood that the great apostle of realism will now show up on the Garden of Eden as a man who must have been with a Mme Adam in it.

SOME remarkably clever person in St. Petersburg has arranged and placed on exhibition a clock with a photograph attachment, the dial of which is a human face, from whose moving mouth comes the announcement of the hours, as well as any directions that may be felt with it.

It is said that the practice of ether-drinking in Ireland originated in the time of cholera, more than 40 years ago, when a "quack" sold drams of ether as a preventive. Finding the intoxicant a pleasant one, the people continued its use after all need or excuse for it had disappeared.

Forty seal poaching vessels have passed north of Sitka so far this season with a good start of the vessels policing those waters. Meantime the same gang are making a terrible fuss about the damage done their interests by the arbitration agreement and putting in absurd claims for compensation before the commission.

At Greenacres, Ind., there are twin maple trees of equal size, but curious graft. At the height of 50 feet one makes a sharp angle, growing solidly into the body of the other, forming a natural arch. The trees at the base are about 15 feet apart, and their identity cannot be distinguished at the point of contact.

The most famous religious relic, says a church paper, is the "Iron Crown," which was worshipped in the middle ages. The tradition is that it was made from the nails which were driven through the hands of Jesus at the time of the crucifixion. This celebrated relic is now in Naples among the state jewels.

A RESIDENT of Fairfield, Me., has been released from Houlton jail after an incarceration of four years for debt. He was able to pay, but wouldn't, and transferred all of his property, worth several thousands of dollars, to relatives, saying that he could stand boarding at the jail as long as the county and his creditors could. The amount of his indebtedness was small.

The Clerk of Clark county, Ind., was summoned to his office late at night recently to issue a marriage license, and he found two old men and an old woman in waiting. Each man claimed it was the other who was principal, while one of them, addressed as Judge whom the lady insisted was the right party, persistently disclaimed the party. The dispute continued until the clerk locked them all out.

Opera house, to-night, the Paris Gaiety Girls.

N. E. Barber has removed from Duluth to Minneapolis.

Indian Commissioner Dar Hall was in the city on Tuesday.

Mrs. Drossen's ice cream parlors on 7th street are now open.

A. J. Demeules is now traveling for the Smith & Coulter Spice Co. of Duluth.

Henry Spalding has leased Mrs. Sleeper's summer resort at Long lake for the season.

N. E. Tuttle has moved his grocery store into the Gardner block at the corner of Fifth and Laurel streets.

Mrs. H. G. Ingersoll, of Plover, Wis., arrived in the city on Monday morning and will remain several weeks.

If Brainerd expects to celebrate the Fourth of July in patriotic style this year it is time some move was made.

Lost—A crescent scarf pin set with pearl and small diamonds. Finder will be rewarded by leaving same at this office.

Mrs. Drossen has concluded to have her brick block on Sixth street built two stories instead of one as first contemplated.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. parlor. All are invited.

The Crookston gun club will hold a tournament on July 5th and 6th in connection with the encampment of the G. A. R. at that place.

A flowing well has been struck on Adam Brown's place near the fair grounds which throws out about twenty-five barrels of water an hour. It is the first artesian well in this vicinity.

A Lagerquist, who has been employed at Westfall's clothing store for several years has severed his connection with that establishment and will probably start in business for himself.

Bishop Gilbert will spend Saturday and Sunday in the city the guest of Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Davis, and will preach in St. Paul's church at the usual hour on Sunday. All are cordially invited to attend.

Sam Pickett's Paris Gaiety Girls are doing the best business of the season at the Madison Street Opera House and sending every audience home happy. This is by far the best the house has had this season.—Chicago Daily News.

Panto Damico, an Italian laborer, died at the Sanitarium on Saturday from internal injuries received by being thrown from a hand car. He was brought to the Sanitarium from the west. His remains were buried in Evergreen cemetery on Sunday.

Hank Donahue, a lumberman from Swan Creek, was robbed of $60 in cash and his shoes on Tuesday. Being in a beastly state of intoxication he rested his weary frame in the alley in the rear of the Sleeper block and when the policeman found him his pocket had been cut out and his earnings gone.

The St. Paul Hotel Reporter says concerning the entertainment at the opera house to-night:

"The Paris Gaiety Girls have made an immense hit at the Pence and packed houses here. It is worthy of the business for it is a very funny show. They close their engagement here Saturday night."

V. B. Chambers, of Minneapolis, has been in the city this week looking over some property which he recently purchased. The gentleman has concluded to build a summer hotel at Gull lake on what is known as the old mission, and also to erect a number of cottages at that place. He had the premises surveyed Wednesday by the county surveyor and will begin work at once.

We are informed of the publication of a novelty in the book line which is certain of an enormous sale. This book is "Glimpses of the World. A Portfolio of Photographs" prepared under the supervision of the great traveler and lecturer—John L. Stoddard. It contains photographic views of famous scenes and places in all parts of the world. Every view is fully described. As an educator it is invaluable. It contains 550 pages, and nearly 275 views, and is sold by subscription at popular prices. The R. S. Peale Co., Chicago, are the publishers and they desire an agent in this locality. They will gladly mail descriptive circulars, sample views and terms to all, on application.

Geo. LaBar is in St. Paul on business and pleasure.

A. L. Hoffman transacted business in Fargo yesterday.

Judge Hall reports a fine girl baby at his home on Thursday morning.

The unsightly bill boards are being removed from various parts of the city.

Miss May Campbell is home from Chicago where she has been for several months.

Mrs. Fred Campbell, of St. Paul, is in the city visiting her mother, Mrs. Metcalf.

Miss Hannah Cummings, of Staples, visited Brainerd friends on Wednesday.

Mrs. C. Drossen has returned from Duluth where she has been visiting her daughter.

M. Cullen is taking a lay off and will not start out on the road again until after the 4th.

The call for the republican county convention to be held Tuesday, July 5th, is published in this issue.

A new girl baby made its appearance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baker on Sunday.

Walter Clark, who has been making Brainerd his home for some months, returned to West Suffolk, Conn., on Tuesday.

The two daughters of Dr. Rosser, Pearl and Tossy, have returned from Indianapolis and will spend their vacation at home.

Dr. J. L. Camp returned last night from Illinois where he has been for several days at the bedside of his uncle, Wm. McCune, who is seriously ill.

Mrs. D. D. Smith and Mrs. W. A. Smith with their children leave next Thursday for a visit of several weeks in New York and other eastern points.

Fred Allen, formerly of this city, but who is now located at Waukegan, Wis., came up on Wednesday and attended the railroad picnic yesterday.

Miss Maggie Bailey, who has been visiting in Brainerd and vicinity for several months, leaves for her home at Irons, Ontario, on Thursday of next week.

The city clerk is occasionally disposing of a dog license check. When the pound master is appointed it is expected that business in that line will look up.

An elegant new plate glass front was placed in Henry L. Cohen's dry goods store in the Koop block yesterday. It adds much to the appearance of the place.

Mrs. B. A. Ferris, Mrs. T. J. Sharkey and Rev. Cory attended the Northern Pacific conference of the Congregational Church at Detroit on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Miss Lottie Grandelmyer, who has been very sick at Minneapolis for two months past, was brought to her home in this city last Saturday. She is reported somewhat better to-day.

Rev. J. A. Jenkins united in marriage on Sunday evening Edward P. Wakefield and Miss Martha Smith, both of Aitkin, and on Tuesday evening E. P. Berggren and Miss Ida Olson, of Deerwood, were married by Rev. O. J. Wagnild.

Two train loads of excursionists left yesterday morning for Detroit, spending the day at that place, returning last evening at 10 o'clock. The occasion was the eighth annual picnic of the Northern Pacific employees. A very pleasant time was enjoyed.

Gilbert Lake seems to be a very unfortunate place for Salvation Army people. Last Friday Capt. Dorn and two lady friends were capsized while boating there, but were luckily rescued. It will be remembered that last fall a gentleman connected with the army was drowned there.

City Assessor T. M. Kelly wishes to request through these columns that all persons to whom he has given assessment blanks fill out and properly sign the same and send them to him through the postoffice or otherwise before June 27th, unless they have already done so. Otherwise he will make the assessment on such information as he can obtain. The city board of equalization will meet on the 27th inst.

The city park was cleaned and placed in fine shape some time since and it was hoped that no acts of vandalism would be perpetrated within its borders. However, some one, probably boys, has chopped down two trees since the work was done. The city authorities will keep a watch on the park hereafter and anyone caught in the act of perpetrating any damage in or about the enclosure will be promptly brought to answer.

J. J. Howe & Co.'s saw mill will close down for a short time about the middle of next week for want of logs. The mill has been doing good work this spring having already cut this season about 7,000,000 feet. The firm has about 13,000,000 feet of logs at the mouth of Pine and Muddy rivers ready to float down just as soon as the big jam above the dam is sluiced by. Mr. Howe thinks that in a couple of weeks these logs can be reached.

Robinson's circus, which exhibited in this city on Tuesday, was considered by nearly all who witnessed it to have been first-class in all respects. There was many people from outside towns present and large audiences were in attendance both afternoon and evening. There was a noticeable absence of "skin games" and gambling devices which usually follow in the wake of circuses. Robinson is the only circus proprietor who put the price of admission down to 50 cents in this city.

The Signs Must Go.

Mayor Hagberg informs us that the ordinance relating to the removal of all signs across the sidewalk will be strictly enforced. The ordinance will take effect next month and the mayor wishes all parties to comply with its provisions without the necessity of further notification.

At the Mill Site.

The preliminary arrangements for the removal of the Gull River Mill and the erection of the new one here have been completed and the work will proceed more rapidly from this time on. A DISPATCH scribe was at the site on Rice Lake yesterday and found the work of extending the railroad track to that place progressing rapidly, the grading to the mill grounds being nearly completed, and a crew of men were at work repairing the line already constructed. The land owned by the company has been nearly all cleared and the brush burned. The machinery is nearly all loaded on the cars at Gull River and only awaits the completion of the track to the site before it can be shipped. We understand that the company yesterday closed a contract with J. J. Howe & Co. for twenty-five car loads of heavy timber and dimension stuff for immediate delivery at the point. Three car loads of granite arrived yesterday to be used in constructing the bridge.

A Farmer's Misfortune.

John Hartman, who lives below Crow Wing met with a serious loss on Tuesday evening. The mosquitoes being very bad in the vicinity of his house and stable, he made several smudges and left them going when he went to bed. During the night the wind came up and fanned the smoldering fire into a blaze blowing it into his straw stack, and his barn was burned together with a span of horses, a couple of cows and a quantity of farm produce which he had stored in the building. His wagon and harness was also consumed.

The Electric Railway.

The ordinance relating to the construction and operation of street railway lines in Brainerd which received the mayor's veto was presented to the council in a revised form on Monday evening and received its first reading and will at the next meeting of that body come up in its regular order. The changes in it require the grantees to have at least one mile in running order, fully equipped, by July 1, 1893, and provides for electric or steam motor lines. The location of the line is as follows:

"The said street railway shall be located, in part of its course, on Sixth street south, in the city of Brainerd, and run from some point on said Sixth street south, and over such other streets as may be selected by the said grantees, their successors, assigns or legal representatives, to Kingwood street, and thence along said Kingwood street and kindred street to some one of the avenues in East Brainerd, numbered one, two, three and four, and from some point on said kindred street northerly on some one of said avenues in East Brainerd, numbered one, two, three and four; but in such manner as to form a continuous line of railway from said point on Sixth street south to the terminus of said railway on one of the avenues aforesaid, or wherever the same may be, after running over one of said avenues, as hereinafter contemplated and expressed."

Sure To Be Built.

It is reported at Duluth that negotiations are pending between the Weyerhaeuser syndicate and the Great Northern railway officers for the extension of the Great Northern from St. Cloud to Little Falls. It is stated that the Great Northern will build the line, and it is possible may also build this year the line north from Milaca to Brainerd. This would be an important link in a line to connect with the Fosston branch, sure to be built some day, and of which the line of road to be built by the Northern Mill company would very probably become a part.—Minneapolis Lumberman.

Losing No Time.

The Lumberman says: The Northern Mill company is losing no time in making its proposed improvements in and about Brainerd. The Gull River mill is to be removed to Brainerd immediately, and is already half torn down. The company had planned to run the mill until fall at the old stand and move it after the sawing season closed, but it finally decided to be better economy to put the necessary new machinery in the mill at the new site than at the old. It will be a complete two-band-and-gang mill with every modern improvement. Its capacity will be 200,000 feet in ten hours. The Northern Pacific road is putting in a new spur to the mill site by which the old mill machinery will be carried to the desired location.

National Prohibition Convention.

For the national prohibition convention, to be held at Cincinnati, Ohio, June 29th and 30th, tickets will be on sale by N. P. R. R. to Cincinnati and return at one lowest first-class fare for the round trip. Dates of sale will be as follows: June 26th and 27th, with final limit of July 7th. Tickets will be limited to continuous passage in each direction.

Parties desiring ice cream can find an excellent quality at Mrs. Drossen's parlors on 7th street.

The City Council.

The regular meeting of the city council was held on Monday evening with Aldermen Titze, Slipp and Barn absent.

The regular routine of business was transacted. A motion was carried that the report of the finance committee recommending the appropriation of $200 for the support of the Brainerd band, be accepted and that an order be drawn for the amount.

Notice of a damage suit to be brought by Mary Andrews and James Andrews against the city for injuries received in falling through a defective sidewalk was read and referred to the city attorney and street committee. Mrs. Andrews claims that on May 15, 1892, she sprained her knee joint while walking on the sidewalk adjoining lot 12 of block 222 in the town of Brainerd. Mr. Andrews will also claim damages for the same accident as husband of the person injured.

Dr. Hemstead was instructed to make a report of the births and deaths to the state board of health.

Following claims against the city were allowed:

Brainerd Tribune, $17.18; Hose Co.'s No. 1, 2, 3 and 4 and Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1, $40 each, expense attending state fire convention.

The clerk was instructed to draw an order for $2,635 in payment for water rental, and the superintendent of electric lights was authorized to purchase supplies.

John McNaughton was appointed acting chairman of the board of health.

The request of T. McMaster to add a story to his building, No. 40, Front street, was granted.

A motion was made and seconded that Ordinance No. 100, relating to street railways and motors and granting the right to construct them to J. N. Nevers, H. Spalding and H. J. Spencer, have its first reading. This was amended by making it to lay up on the table until the next regular meeting. The amendment was lost and the original motion carried and the ordinance was read. A motion was then made to suspend the rules and give it its second reading which was lost.

The day license of J. M. Collier was transferred to J. J. Stearns.

Rev. W. H. Ware appeared before the council and petitioned them to place plank in the park for seats to be used for Sunday afternoon services and the matter was referred to the street committee with power to act.

A motion to raise the pay of street employees from $1.50 to $1.75 per day was carried.

The Salvation Army.

Capt. Trudgion and wife and Cadet Lindstrom arrived last evening and will have charge of the salvation army in this city for the present. On Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week, at which time Joe, the Turk, will be present, an admission of ten cents will be charged at the door. Next Thursday and Friday evenings the Blind Evangelist, a polished talker and orator, and his daughter who is a fine musician and singer will be present. Staff Capt. Pebbles will accompany them.

Notice.

All orders on the general county fund of Crow Wing county, registered on or before April 8th, 1892, will be paid on presentation and interest will cease after June 27th, 1892. Also all Cass county orders registered on or before May 14th, 1892. Interest to cease on above date.

N. E. Tuttle has moved his grocery store into the Gardner block at the corner of Fifth and Laurel streets.

Mrs. H. G. Ingersoll, of Plover, Wis., arrived in the city on Monday morning and will remain several weeks.

If Brainerd expects to celebrate the Fourth of July in patriotic style this year it is time some move was made.

Lost—A crescent scarf pin set with pearl and small diamonds. Finder will be rewarded by leaving same at this office.

Mrs. Drensen has concluded to have her brick block on Sixth street built two stories instead of one as first contemplated.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. parlors. All are invited.

The Crookston gun club will hold a tournament on July 6th and 7th in connection with the encampment of the G. A. R. at that place.

A flowing well has been struck on Adam Brown's place near the fair grounds which throws out about twenty-five barrels of water an hour. It is the first artesian well in this vicinity.

A Lagerquist, who has been employed at Westfall's clothing store for several years has severed his connection with that establishment and will probably start in business for himself.

Sam Pickett's Paris Gaiety Girls' Burlesque company opened to a large attendance last night at the People's. The show is a capital one, possessing many original and taking features.

Milwaukee Journal.

Bishop Gilbert will spend Saturday and Sunday in the city the guest of Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Davis, and will preach in St. Paul's church at the usual hour on Sunday. All are cordially invited to attend.

Sam Pickett's Paris Gaiety Girls are doing the best business of the season at the Madison Street Opera House and sending every audience home happy. This is by far the best the house has had this season.—Chicago Daily News.

Panto Damico, an Italian laborer, died at the Sanitarium on Saturday from internal injuries received by being thrown from a hand car. He was brought to the Sanitarium from the west. His remains were buried in Evergreen cemetery on Sunday.

Hank Donahue, a lumberman from Swan Creek, was robbed of $80 in cash and his shoes on Tuesday. Being in a beastly state of intoxication he reeled his weary frame in the alley in the rear of the Sleeper block and when the policeman found him his pocket had been cut out and his earnings gone.

The St. Paul Hotel Reporter says concerning the entertainment at the opera house to-night:

"The Paris Gaiety Girls have made an immense hit at the Pence and packed houses rule. It is worthy of the business for it is a very funny show. They close their engagement here Saturday night."

W. B. Chambers, of Minneapolis, has been in the city this week looking over some property which he recently purchased. The gentleman has concluded to build a summer hotel at Gull lake on what is known as the old mission, and also to erect a number of cottages at that place. He had the premises surveyed Wednesday by the county surveyor and will begin work at once.

We are informed of the publication of a novelty in the book line which is certain of an enormous sale. This book is "Glimpses of the World. A Portfolio of Photographs" prepared under the supervision of the great traveler and lecturer—John L. Stoddard. It contains photographic views of famous scenes and places in all parts of the world. Every view is fully described. As an educator it is invaluable. It contains 550 pages, and nearly 275 views, and is sold by subscription at popular prices. The R. S. Pease Co., Chicago, are the publishers and they desire an agent in this locality. They will gladly mail descriptive circulars, sample views and terms to all, on application.

Geo. LaBar is in St. Paul on business and pleasure.

A. L. Hoffman transacted business in Fargo yesterday.

Judge Hall reports a fine girl baby at his home on Thursday morning.

The unsightly bill boards are being removed from various parts of the city.

Miss May Campbell is home from Chicago where she has been for several months.

Mrs. Fred Campbell, of St. Paul, is in the city visiting her mother, Mrs. Metcalf.

Miss Hannah Cummings, of Staples, visited Brainerd friends on Wednesday.

Mrs. C. Drensen has returned from Duluth where she has been visiting her daughter.

M. Cullen is taking a lay off and will not start out on the road again until after the 4th.

The call for the republican county convention to be held Tuesday, July 5th, is published in this issue.

A new girl baby made its appearance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baker on Sunday.

Walter Clark, who has been making Brainerd his home for some months, returned to West Suffield, Conn., on Tuesday.

The two daughters of Dr. Rosser, Pearl and Tossy, have returned from Indianapolis and will spend their vacation at home.

Dr. J. L. Camp returned last night from Illinois where he has been for several days at the bedside of his nephew, Win. McCune, who is seriously ill.

Mrs. D. D. Smith and Mrs. W. A. Smith with their children leave next Thursday for a visit of several weeks in New York and other eastern points.

Fred Allen, formerly of this city, but who is now located at Waukesha, Wis., came up on Wednesday and attended the railroad picnic yesterday.

Miss Maggie Bailey, who has been visiting in Brainerd and vicinity for several months, leaves for her home at Iroquois, Ontario, on Thursday of next week.

The city clerk is occasionally disposing of a dog license check. When the pound master is appointed it is expected that business in that line will look up.

An elegant new plate glass front was placed in Henry I. Cohen's dry goods store in the Koop block yesterday. It adds much to the appearance of the place.

Mrs. B. A. Ferris, Mrs. T. J. Sharkey and Rev. Cory attended the Northern Pacific conference of the Congregational Church at Detroit on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Miss Lottie Grandelmyer, who has been very sick at Minneapolis for two months past, was brought to her home in this city last Saturday. She is reported somewhat better to-day.

Two train loads of excursionists left yesterday morning for Detroit, spending the day at that place, returning last evening at 10 o'clock. The occasion was the eighth annual picnic of the Northern Pacific employees. A very pleasant time was enjoyed.

Gilbert Lake seems to be a very unfortunate place for Salvation Army people. Last Friday Capt. Dorn and two lady friends were captured while boating there, but were luckily rescued. It will be remembered that last fall a gentleman connected with the army was drowned there.

City Assessor T. M. Reilly wishes to request through these columns that all persons to whom he has given assessment blanks fill out and properly sign the same and send them to him through the postoffice or otherwise before June 27th, unless they have already done so. Otherwise he will make the assessment on such information as he can obtain. The city board of equalization will meet on the 27th inst.

The city park was cleaned and placed in fine shape some time since and it was hoped that no acts of vandalism would be perpetrated within its borders. However, some one, probably boys, has chopped down two trees since the work was done. The city authorities will keep a watch on the park hereafter and anyone caught in the act of perpetrating any damage in or about the enclosure will be promptly brought to answer.

J. J. Howe & Co.'s saw mill will close down for a short time about the middle of next week for want of logs. The mill has been doing good work this spring having already cut this season about 7,000,000 feet. The firm has about 13,000,000 feet of logs at the mouth of Pine and Muddy rivers ready to float down just as soon as the big jam about the dam is sluiced by. Mr. Howe thinks that in a couple of weeks these logs can be reached.

Robinson's circus, which exhibited in this city on Tuesday, was considered by nearly all who witnessed it to have been first-class in all respects. There was many people from outside towns present and large audiences were in attendance both afternoon and evening. There was a noticeable absence of "skin games" and gambling devices which usually follow in the wake of circuses. Robinson is the only circus proprietor who put the price of admission down to 50 cents in this city.

The Signs Must Go.

Mayor Hagberg informs us that the ordinance relating to the removal of all signs across the sidewalk will be strictly enforced. The ordinance will take effect next month and the mayor wishes all parties to comply with its provisions without the necessity of further notification.

At the Mill Site.

The preliminary arrangements for the removal of the Gull River Mill and the erection of the new one here have been completed and the work will proceed more rapidly from this time on. A Dispatch scribe was at the site on Rice Lake yesterday and found the work of extending the railroad track to that place progressing rapidly, the grading to the mill grounds being nearly completed, and a crew of men were at work repairing the line already constructed. The land owned by the company has been nearly all cleared and the brush burned. The machinery is nearly all loaded on the cars at Gull River and only awaits the completion of the track to the site before it can be shipped. We understand that the company yesterday closed a contract with J. J. Howe & Co., of twenty-five car loads of heavy timber and dimension stuff for immediate delivery at the point. Three car loads of granite arrived yesterday to be used in constructing the bridge.

A Farmer's Misfortune.

John Hartman, who lives below Crow Wing mill with a serious loss on Tuesday evening. The mosquitoes being very bad in the vicinity of his house and stable, he made several smudges and left them going when he went to bed. During the night the wind came up and fanned the smouldering fire into a blaze blowing it into his straw stack, and his barn was burned together with a span of horses, a couple of cows and a quantity of farm produce which he had stored in the building. His wagon and harness was also consumed.

The Electric Railway.

The ordinance relating to the construction and operation of street railway lines in Brainerd which received the mayor's veto was presented to the council in a revised form on Monday evening and received its first reading and will at the next meeting of that body come up in its regular order. The changes in it require the grantees to have at least one mile in running order, fully equipped, by July 1, 1903, and provides for electric or steam motor lines. The location of the line is as follows:

"The said street railway shall be located, in part of its course, on Sixth street, south, in the city of Brainerd, and run from some point on said Sixth street south, and over such other streets as may be selected by the said grantees, their successors, assigns or legal representatives, to Kingwood street, and thence along said Kingwood street and kindred street to some one of the avenues in East Brainerd, numbered one, two, three and four, but in such manner as to form a continuous line of railway from said point on Sixth street to the terminus of said street on one of the avenues aforesaid, or wherever the same may be, after running over one of said avenues, as hereinafter contemplated and expressed."

Business College Graduating Exercises.

Graduating exercises of the Brainerd Business College will be held at the opera house on Tuesday evening, June 28th, commencing at 8 p. m. The following is the programme arranged for the occasion:

Reinhardt; Tessa, "Short Story"; Miss Lillian Turner; "The Typewriter"; Miss Marie Gibson; Song, "Selected"; Miss George Alexander; Oration, "The Amusements"; Miss Jennie Gilby; Piano selection;—Miss Lillian Turner; Solo, "The Shortland Student"; Miss Lillian Turner; Dialogue, "Rural Oration"; Miss Lillian Turner; Address, "Jas. E. Willis and Chas. F. McCarthy"; Song, "Selected"; Miss M. Bailey; Solo, "Selected"; Miss Katie Corrigan; Oration, "Education"; Chas. F. McCarthy; Oration, "The Accountant"; Jacob O. The Presentation of Diplomas.

Address to the graduates:—Prof. J. N. Chadwick.

After the exercises two gold fountain pens will be awarded as follows: one for general scholarship, and another for regularity in attendance and deportment.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend and a pleasant evening is guaranteed to all. Admission free. Children under 14 years of age will not be admitted unless accompanied by their parents or guardians.

Sure To Be Built.

It is reported at Duluth that negotiations are pending between the Weyerhaeuser syndicate and the Great Northern railway officers for the extension of the Great Northern from St. Cloud to Little Falls. It is stated that the Great Northern will build the line, and it is possible may also build this year the line north from Milaca to Brainerd. This would be an important link in a line to connect with the Fosston branch, sure to be built some day, and of which the line of road to be built by the Northern Mill company would very probably become a part.—Minneapolis Lumberman.

Losing No Time.

The Lumberman says: The Northern Mill company is losing no time in making its proposed improvements in and about Brainerd. The Gull River mill is to be removed to Brainerd immediately, and is already half torn down. The company had planned to run the mill until fall at the old stand and move it after the sawing season closed, but it finally decided to be better economy to put the necessary new machinery in the mill at the new site than at the old. It will be a complete two-band-and-gang mill with every modern improvement. Its capacity will be 200,000 feet in ten hours. The Northern Pacific road is putting in a new spur to the mill site by which the old mill machinery will be carried to the desired location.

National Prohibition Convention.

For the national prohibition convention, to be held at Cincinnati, Ohio, June 29th and 30th, tickets will be on sale by N. P. R. R. to Cincinnati and return at one lowest first-class fare for the round trip. Dates of sale will be as follows: June 26th and 27th, with final limit of July 7th. Tickets will be limited to continuous passage in each direction.

Parties desiring ice cream can find an excellent quality at Mrs. Drensen's parlors on 7th street.

The City Council.

The regular meeting of the city council was held on Monday evening with Aldermen Titze, Slipp and Bain absent.

The regular routine of business was transacted. A motion was carried that the report of the finance committee recommending the appropriation of $200 for the support of the Brainerd band, be accepted and that an order be drawn for the amount.

Notice of a damage suit to be brought by Mary Andrews and James Andrews against the city for injuries received in falling through a defective sidewalk was read and referred to the city attorney and street committee. Mrs. Andrews claims that on May 15, 1892, she sprained her knee joint while walking on the sidewalk adjoining lot 12 of block 222 in the town of Brainerd. Mr. Andrews will also claim damages for the same accident as husband of the person injured.

Dr. Hemstead was instructed to make a report of the births and deaths to the state board of health.

Following claims against the city were allowed:

Brainerd Tribune, $17.18; Hose Co.'s No. 1, 2, 3 and 4 and Hook & Ladder Co. No. 1, $40 each, expense attending state fire convention.

The clerk was instructed to draw an order for $2,635 in payment for water rental, and the superintendent of electric lights was authorized to purchase supplies.

John McNaughton was appointed acting chairman of the board of health.

The request of T. McMaster to add a story to his building, No. 40, Front street, was granted.

A motion was made and seconded that Ordinance No. 100, relating to street railways and motors and granting the right to construct them to J. N. Nevers, H. Spalding and H. J. Spencer, have its first reading. This was amended by making it to lay up on the table until the next regular meeting. The amendment was lost and the original motion carried and the ordinance was read. A motion was then made to suspend the rules and give it its second reading which was lost.

The day license of J. M. Collier was transferred to J. J. Stearns.

Rev. W. H. Ware appeared before the council and petitioned them to place plank in the park for seats to be used for Sunday afternoon services and the matter was referred to the street committee with power to act.

A motion to raise the pay of street employees from $1.50 to $1.75 per day was carried.

The Salvation Army.

Capt. Trudgen and wife and Cadet Lindstrom arrived last evening and will have charge of the salvation army in this city for the present. On Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week, at which time Joe, the Turk, will be present, an admission of ten cents will be charged at the door. Next Thursday and Friday evenings the Blind Evangelist, a polished talker and orator, and his daughter, who is a fine musician and singer will be present. Staff Capt. Pebbles will accompany them.

Notice.

All orders on the general county fund of Crow Wing county, registered on or before April 8th, 1892, will be paid on presentation and interest will cease after June 27th, 1892. Also all Cass county orders registered on or before May 14th, 1892. Interest to cease on above date.

JOHN T. PRATER,
County Auditor.

BRAINERD, June 23, 1892.

How About Canfield?

The ever welcome presence of that rustling genius, Dr. Howe, has been seen on the streets of Grand Rapids, for the past few days. He came up to give personal attention to the completion of his new saw mill.—Grand Rapids Magnet.

He Left Mourners.

W. W. Blackshaw, a young man formerly of Minneapolis and highly connected here, proprietor of the Vienna Bakery, left for parts unknown with creditors mourning his departure to the extent of $3,000.—Duluth Tribune.

The item above refers to the man whom Chas. Hazen, formerly of this city, was in partnership with.
